Residents have a howling good time!

Residents on the Chuckery estate in Walsall braced themselves for an ex-FEAR-ience this Halloween!

With the witching hour close at hand, Halloween costume clad residents could be seen entering the estate's Halloween inspired community room for a ghoulishly fun time.

Residents of all ages took part in the spine-chilling games on offer; cracking open skulls in skull pass the parcel, playing musical broomsticks and pumpkin piñata. While skull cakes were washed down with bat's breath, witches brew and vampire blood refreshments.

Arrays of howlingly creative carved pumpkins were on show, carved by residents during the day, with Kayleigh Smith crowned pumpkin carving champion.

Head Witch and Estate Director, Stephanie Rees; said "this has been a wonderful event for the whole family to enjoy. All of our residents have really got into the spirit of the event; residents have had the opportunity to meet and mix with each other; helping further strengthen the community spirit here at Chuckery TMO".
